When setting up a personal stock investment strategy, individual investors often set short-term and long-term goals. These goals may address the questions of specific objectives, how to start achieving these objectives, and the amount of risk that the individual is comfortable taking on. Once goals are in place, the investor can start to think about the overall strategy, and how they are going to start building the portfolio. A large number of investors will not reach their goals that they created at the outset. There may be many different reasons for this, but getting caught up in the excitement and chasing performance may be near the top of the list. Investors who figure out how to focus on the right information are typically more prepared for the numerous challenges that arise when dealing with the equity market.

Investors may be interested in the current Bull Bear Power reading for Ecopetrol S.A. (NYSE:EC) which is currently at 0.100382455. Investors may also be looking at some historical volatility numbers. Volatility for the month is presently 2.2444532. Looking back for the previous week, volatility is 2.986272.

Investors tracking shares of Ecopetrol S.A. (NYSE:EC) will note that the stock has seen a change of 0.049382716% since the open. Shares recently finished the previous session at 20.26. The one month high for the stock is currently standing at 21.38.

Technical stock analysts are always using every possible piece of information to help make the best possible trades. A popular flexible indicator is the Ichimoku Cloud. This indicator can help portray the momentum and trend direction of a stock. Ichimoku signals can help the trader find possible entry and exit points. Checking on some recent indicator levels, we note that the Ichimoku Cloud Conversion Line level is 20.55, and the Ichimoku Cloud Base Line level is 19.695. Tracking some variations, the Ichimoku Lead 1 is presently 18.465, and the Lead 2 level is 17.755.

Switching the focus to the Awesome Oscillator, we see that the present reading is 1.396. Traders may be watching this oscillator to help identify a change in momentum. The AO can be a useful tool when trying to understand certain price movements.

Traders often use pivot point indicators when conducting technical stock analysis. Pivot points are commonly used to help identify trends of various time periods. Let's check on some different one month pivot points:

Camarilla: 19.716667
Classic: 19.716667
Classic resistance 1: 20.013334
Classic support 1: 19.503334

Traders may be keeping a close eye on shares of Ecopetrol S.A. (NYSE:EC). Looking at past price performance may help them gauge how the stock will react in the future. Keeping in mind the most recent close price of 20.26, we note that the stock has seen a move of 3.582395 over the previous week. Looking back out over the last month, the stock has moved 12.257349. Over the past three months, the stock has seen a change of 7.3170733. Investors may want to go back even further to see what has transpired over a longer period of time. Since the start of the calendar year, shares have changed 27.45592. Going back a full 52 weeks, the stock has seen a change of 15.591091 over that period of time.

Stock market triumph can be just as much about learning how to minimize losses as it is about picking winning stocks. Not even the most seasoned professional investors are right all the time. Successful investors know how to act quickly and protect themselves from big losses. Sometimes those sure-fire stock picks don't perform as planned. Being able to detach from any emotion that one might have to a certain stock can help with being able to cut and run when the time is right. Investors will often try to convince themselves that the research was correct and the stock will bounce back, but this can lead to extended losses and future portfolio disaster. Sometimes markets or individual stocks will move in a direction that nobody expected. Being able to take a punch and move on is what may keep investors from experiencing quick defeat in the stock market.

Traders may be looking at some EMA levels on company shares. The exponential moving average can be very useful when applied correctly. They tend to work well when markets are trending. Here's a look at some popular EMA levels for Ecopetrol S.A. (NYSE:EC):

50 day EMA: 19.29712
