With a 50% preference, the state's oil company leads the list, according to a Fedesarrollo Financial Opinion Survey. The most recent Financial Opinion Survey (EOF) consulted market analysts about the three actions they consider most attractive within those that make up the Colcap index.

In January, Ecopetrol's ordinary share was at the top of the ranking, with 50% of the analyst's shares.

They are followed by the ordinary action of the Sura Group, with 34.1%; Bancolombias preferential, with 25%; Daviviendas preferential, with 25%; and the ordinary share of Corficolombiana, with 20.5%.

Regarding the previous month, there was a greater appetite for respondents for actions in the energy, holdings and oil sectors. On the contrary, there were reductions in preferences for actions of the sectors Financial and construction.
