She was also the Academic Director of the Doctorate in Educational Sciences in Rudecolombia at the University of Cartagena and in the country, and the Academic Advisor for The Caribbean State University System (SUE) and Director of the Rueca Research Group. She is also an Honorary Scholar since 2017.

The President of Ecopetrol celebrated the decision to continue drilling for hydrocarbons

"The new science and technology policy of access to the territory from the missions confirms the way I was working from the Rueca research group, of which Dr. Ospina is also a pioneer, and from which we linked the entire region in the education system. Our research work has gone beyond doctoral training and master's training, and is now in school. This is our biggest challenge: proposing to bring science, technology and innovation to the regions and the regionHe confirmed.

Lago received a plaque of appreciation from Minister Arturo Luna.

Ospina, like Lago, is a Doctor of Educational Sciences from the Complutense University of Madrid (Spain). He directed his research contribution towards quality processes in the training of researchers, work he has done since obtaining his master's degree in higher education.

He was also Dean of the Faculty of Science for 8 years, as well as a leading member of Rueca's research group. He has accumulated more than 30 papers and shared the distinction with fellow Lago Scholar Emeritus (2015).
